"Last year's Entrepreneurial Weekend showed me two crucial ingredients in startups really develop: strategy and teamwork. When I joined Prospair's team with Sezin and Morten, having the time limit really condensed our strategies about how to communicate the concept efficiently, while our teamwork was strengthened by relying on each other's skills and supporting each other to give the best pitch we could."
- Bryce, Prospair

"After the valuable input from the mentors at Entrepreneurial Weekend, my team and I were able to document how our project works in extreme details, taking scalability and clear market potential demonstration into account. It was liberating to be creative but also structured by using certain methods provided at Entrepreneurial Weekend. the network you make could have a great positive impact on your project. I was truly impressed by the commitment level of the business community in Kolding and how much support you could get from the like-minded people."
- Sezin, Prospair

"LAHU team participated in that competition striving to move further, to meet talented people and increase its network. And all that happened! We were more than gratified to be a part of this adventure called Entrepreneurial Weekend, working on boosting the startup community in Kolding! LAHU team went through 3 days full of creativity, practising design methods, solving communication challenges, exchanging knowledge and skills, learning how to pitch and many more. In the end, we won the prize for The Most Innovative Idea - it was not easy to be a part of such a dynamic startup environment, but it is worth doing it!"
- Svetlana, LAHU
