The majority of the region's Cultural and Creative enterprises (CCIs), approximately 6 out of 10, belong to the sectors of:

- Architecture (almost 1 out of 4 CCIs)
- Retail Sale of Cultural Goods (approximately 12% of all CCIs, mostly consisted of bookstores)
- Software Publishing & Computer Programming (approximately 11% of all CCIs)
- Arts & Entertainment (consisted mostly of artistic creations)

On the contrary, the lowest numbers of enterprises belong to the Special Designing sector (0,77% annual average rate), Translation & Interpretation sector (approximately 2%) and Heritage, Libraries & Museums sector (2%).

In particular, the Heritage, Libraries & Museums sector would be even smaller if there wasn't the significant number of libraries in the region, which represented an average 9,5% of the Greek Libraries overall, during the 2011-2016 period.

3.3. Industries Identification

From the qualitative analysis conducted on a sample of urban Cultural and Creative industries located in the Region of Western Greece, some important issues were emerged, concerning the enterprises' needs at various subjects.

Despite the fact that most of the participants represent different subsectors and business activities, the majority of their needs or issues are quite similar and they are concluded as followed:

- Lack of funding sources and difficulties to get finance.
- Lack of professional guidance for effective extroversion/internationalization.
- Networking/interconnection difficulties, which cause absence of synergies.
- Non-existent or ineffective marketing strategies that subsequently cause market access problems.
- Ineffective or even failure to use new technologies that will increase their productivity and may lead to innovation.
- Lack of vocational training and education programs, which will enhance the technical and artistic skills of the businessman and their personnel.
- Lack of vocational training and education programs, which will enhance their entrepreneur and management skills and gain access to innovative activities.
- Misunderstanding/misinterpreting the existing legal framework regarding intellectual property rights (IPR) of their products/services.

Moreover, from 04.02.2019 to 03.04.2019, ten (10) thematic workshops were organized involving entrepreneurs, self-employed and executives of cultural and creative enterprises of the Region of Western Greece, but also students from relevant CCI University Departments. Main aim of the workshops was to record the existing critical mass needs of enterprises, in order to extract conclusions for the region and creative industry that will feed the educational material and the development of the TRACES accelerator.

According to the Activity Report of the Meetings (D.3.4.2 - Activity report of Meetings for participatory assessment incubation needs with CC MSMEs in Western Greece, 2019), the conclusions of the above ten workshops aiming at facing the challenges of the CCIs in Western Greece are as follows:

- Lack of qualified human capital.
- Lack of a solid entrepreneurial culture and of structural conditions for a profitable business.
- Difficulty in coordinating and implementing commercial, marketing and communication activities as well as obtaining access to foreign markets.
- Bureaucracy and lack of knowledge on the existing legislation and ignorance of IP rights/procedures as well.
- Limited access to heavy equipment which is very expensive.

- Lack of information from regional and municipal offices and structures.

In this context, the priorities in order to strengthen the CCIs sector in Western Greece are the following:

- Getting access to counseling on market validation strategies and copyright issues.
- Learning to design a mock up version before finalizing the product details, so that its “official” version will be as compatible as possible to the existing market needs, thus allowing the entry to the market with a ready-to-purchase audience.
- Need for training courses in foreign languages, management and organizational activities, as well as in building solid entrepreneurial culture.
- Further networking to gain access to the catering industry outside the local circle of connections in Patras.

Also, participants were asked to describe the desirable skills that they would be willing to pay for, in order to strengthen their business profiles. Accessibility, ability to personally handle the important decisions and elimination of any losses were the three elements that seem to prevail. These characteristics are expected to strengthen the ability to run their business in private facilities, designed according to their needs, leading to professional profile upgrade and increase in productivity levels.

On the following table, these above-mentioned needs/issues are further analyzed and matched by each Cultural and- Creative sector & subsector:

Issue / Need	Main Characteristics	Sectors Affected	Subsectors Affected	Key Findings
Access to Finance	• Lack of Funding Sources. • Lack of guidance and support for funding tools. • Difficulty to approach large corporations for social responsibility funds • Unable to raise EU/regional funds	All sectors	All subsectors	This problem is severe for start-ups.
Extroversion / Internationalization	• Difficulties in identifying suitable foreign markets. • Inability to promote products or services abroad.	Cultural & Creative Industries	All subsectors of the Cultural & Creative Industries	The key problem is the absence of proper European cooperation.
Networking Synergies	• Lack of support by relevant associations. • Absence of common places for cooperation (i.e.	All sectors	All subsectors	Some of these sectors face less intense networking issues that others, due to the existence of one association in the area

Issue / Need	Main Characteristics	Sectors Affected	Subsectors Affected	Key Findings
	Creative Hubs). • Limited network with other professionals			(i.e. Architectures)
Use of New Technologies	• Poor use of IT resources. • Unable to find suitable new technologies. • Limited access/expensive to use heavy equipment	All sectors, especially Creative Industries	All subsectors and especially Computing Programming, Printing & Manufacturing.	All participants consider this issue as a key point that will lead to innovation. They also connect the need for new technologies with the lack of funding sources.
Marketing Strategies	• Difficulty in setting up an effective marketing plan on their own. • Inability in using digital marketing tools.	All sectors	All subsectors	Most participants have marketing problems because of wrong customer segmentation and price policies.
Cultural Training / Education	• Lack of suitable seminars/workshops that promote vocational training. • Difficulties in finding competent personnel and new trends for their activities	All sectors, especially Creative Industries.	All subsectors	Most participants indicate the low availability of skilled employees and the need for relevant education/training.
Business Management Education	• Poor management & organization skills. • Limited knowledge of the business environment. • No entrepreneurial culture • Pure knowledge of foreign languages (entrepreneurial terminology)	All sectors	All subsectors	The majority indicate the need for proper business or commercial consulting.
Intellectual Property Rights	• Difficulties in understanding the national legislation about IPR. • Lack of guidance by legal or business experts on IPR.	All sectors, especially Creative Industries and Arts & Entertainment sectors.	All subsectors and especially Computer Programming, Manufacturing, Artistic Creations and Photographers.	Apart from the music industry, which legal framework is easy to comprehend, there is a big confusion regarding the other activities. The need for proper consultancy has enormous importance.

Finally, participants in workshops mentioned that one of the difficulties they are facing is their access to media (newspapers, magazines, journalists etc). What we can understand from this comment is that people who are working in Cultural and Creative Industry don't understand how the Industry they belong works, as all the media mentioned are part of this sector (see paragraph 1.2. of the current report: Advertising - Media & Information). The above statement leads us to conclude that there is a lack of networking between the professionals and enterprises of the Cultural and Creative Industry and in an adequate network, difficulties in accessing media won't exist.

3.4. Area and Phases of Intervention

Based on the findings of the afore-mentioned qualitative analysis, the following table illustrates a segmentation by their presence per subsector (the order is based on their regional ranking) and per entrepreneurial stage.

Based on the above table, most of the issues/needs refer to all sectors. Most of these issues/needs concern the business from day zero (before the enterprise's establishment), such as:

- The access to finance via relevant funding opportunities (especially during the early stages).
- Education on basic business administration (management, financial management, human resources etc.)
- The formation of an efficient marketing plan that will initially help them identify their target market and expand their activities afterwards.
- The lifelong learning of the business and their personnel that will enhance their competences and update them with new trends or skills.
- Securing the intellectual property rights of their services/products and confronting any kind of unfair competition.

3.5. Type of Services able to provide

Focusing on the findings of the qualitative CCI analysis of the Region of Western Greece, there will be a more detailed analysis of the problems/challenges occurred of the afore mentioned issues/needs. Moreover, there will be identified which type of service is the most suitable to solve each of these problems.

Issue/Need	Problems/Challenges	Services to Provide	Description of the Services
Access to Finance	• Lack of funding sources. • Lack of guidance and support for funding tools. • The red tape affecting finance instruments. • The failure to recognize the risk factor of being financed by relevant institutions. • Poor knowledge of taking advantage several tax-credit instruments.	• Fundraising support. • Information on active or future tasks. • Consultancy on submitting and monitoring proposals. • Seminars with subjects such as locating and managing funding tools.	These types of services are being summed up in the provision of information, project assistance and finance consultancy. Although funding needs are important in every stage of an entity's life cycle, this kind of support is crucial during the early stages (preparation, start-up and build-up stages), because they offer motivation for establishment and/or expansion.
Extroversion / Internationalization	• Difficulties in identifying suitable foreign markets. • Inability to promote products or services abroad. • Lack of personnel with the appropriate competences (i.e. foreign languages, sales management).	• Promoting European or international cooperation via the regional Business service providers or associations. • Information on active or future European calls for cooperative CCI projects. • Improving basic competences via VET.	This interconnection has huge importance. Business service providers or associations may offer or create the appropriate conditions for international synergies. These synergies may not be necessarily from the same sectors or subsectors and they may lead to innovative activities, concerning the different cultures or special characteristics of each stakeholder.
Networking / Synergies	• Absence of common places for cooperation (i.e. Creative Hubs). • Lack of support by relevant associations and public administrations.	• Information or consultancy on participating in National or European collaborative Projects. • Creating or upgrading associations or organizations for each subsector/activity • Creation of online communication channels (blogs, social media, site,	This issue has great importance for all industries. The public administrations, the local/regional CCI associations and research institutes can take advantage of several opportunities (i.e. EU funding tools for cooperation and innovation) initiate strategic

Use of New Technologies	• Poor use of IT resources. • Unable to find suitable new technologies that will lead to innovation.	• Updates on new technologies. • Participation in high-level seminars regarding IT subjects. • Participation in expos related to innovative technologies.	This issue is also connected with the lack of funding opportunities. The lifelong learning has huge importance, especially for the Creative Industry. Business service providers and the CCI associations/organizations may also contribute by informing their members on a periodic scale.
Marketing Strategies	• Difficulties in setting up an effective marketing plan on their own. • Inability to find the right “message” and to promote it to the right target market. • Inability in using digital marketing tools. • Difficulties in finding a suitable and sustainable sponsorship.	Provision of appropriate marketing strategy by experts. Participation in seminars or workshops related to advertising or promoting activities.	Setting up a marketing strategy is important from the beginning and includes many stages that most entrepreneurs are unaware of (customer segmentation, key messages, price policy, product promotion, branding etc.). Business consultants and relevant Business service providers can offer this kind of services throughout the enterprise’s life cycle.
Cultural Training / Education	• Lack of suitable seminars/workshops that promote vocational training. • Difficulties in finding competent personnel and new trends of their activities. • Lack of co-working spaces that may create new partnerships.	• Participation in high-level seminars or workshops regarding the characteristics of the business activity. • Consultancy on human resources subjects.	Lifelong learning is a key activity that will enhance the entrepreneurs’ or personnel’s competences. Business service providers and CCI associations may organize periodically relevant educative events. Moreover, enterprises may be consulted for choosing/evaluating the right employees and/or exploiting their existing synergies for proper pieces of advice or information.
Business / Management Education	• Poor management & organization skills. • Limited knowledge of the business environment.	• Business consultancy. • Participation in co-working spaces. • Participation in seminars regarding basic Business	Support of the business on basic aspects of organizing and running a successful company, such as business planning, setting short-term

Lifelong learning also is a key activity for skills enhancement or development. Thus, public administrations, Business service providers, research institutes and CCI organizations can contribute by initiating co-working actions and relevant seminars or workshops.
Intellectual Property Rights	• Difficulties to comprehend the national legislation about IPR. • Lack of guidance by legal or business experts on IPR.	• Provision of expert consultancy on IPR issues. • Participation in social events that are related with this subject. • Constant information on changes or updates of the existing national framework.	Public administrations and CCI organizations/associations can inform the audience (or their members) on key issues or updates regarding IPR. This type of activity can also be provided by experts or mentors with relevant experience.

3.6. Types of Entities able to provide Support

Based on the subsection 1.5 table and the existing public and private bodies that are established in the Region of Western Greece and can provide support for these above-mentioned problems, the following table depicts the recommended matching.

Issue/Need	Services to Provide	Services Providers
