2. INVESTIGATION AND SCOPE OF RESEARCH

With the simplest definition, tourism is described as travel made for seeing, recognizing, enjoying and relaxing the history and natural beauties of a place. It presents economic, social, cultural and environmental goods with the result of tourism which is an important mass movement.

Today, the tourism sector is a sector that changes day by day, renews itself and develops continuously all over the world. According to the World Tourism Organization forecasts, the tourism sector will be the fastest growing and self-developing sector in the next twenty years.

The tourism sector has recently been an important leverage in the development of countries and regions, which has played an active role in resolving regional imbalances, leading to development. However, it is seen that besides the positive effects of tourism activities, developing countries have difficulties in increasing their share in tourism markets. Today, the expectations, desires and preferences of people for tourism activities change with the reasons such as living standards, income, urbanization. Changing tourist demand has resulted in diversification of tourism preferences and types of tourism and search for new regions. For this reason, developing countries need to increase their tourism shares by developing and diversifying their tourism services and products. This diversification is provided by the development of alternative tourism activities. Countries that have developed alternative tourism types are stronger and stand up to their competitors.

Edirne and Kırklareli are among the most diverse and lucky cities within the tourist products and cities that are starting to resemble each other in terms of the values and products they possess. When the tourism draw its direction, especially the alternate fields we focus on, it provides us with an important roadmap for cities to receive their share of the right. Besides the historical values and cultural heritage of Edirne and Kırklareli, have potential of many alternatives such as nature tourism, gastronomic tourism, religious tourism, congress tourism with its gastronomic culture, religious buildings, strategic position with the traces of Ottoman cuisine.

This study, which was prepared within the framework of Cross-Border Cooperation Program, examined the food culture in Edirne and Kırklareli, the elements that affect this culture and the forgotten tastes. The content of the report included the promotion of food culture and food businesses in Edirne and Kırklareli provinces. It is aimed that local and foreign tourists visiting the region should be included in gastronomic tourism.

3. METHOD OF RESEARCH

This study was carried out by Progem Training and Consulting Ltd. Co. coordinated by Edirne Chamber of Commerce and Industry. The method of analysis of the researches carried out within the scope of the study is given below.

3.1. Method of Data Collection

During the research, a large-scale literature search was conducted on the internet and the related academic publications were examined. Detailed data on gastronomy and gastronomy tourism are compiled from national and international publications. In addition to the literature review, individual interviews were conducted on the food culture in Edirne and Kırklareli provinces during the fieldwork conducted throughout the region.

Between January 30 and February 2, 2018, a field study was carried out in order to photograph and record businesses operating in the food sector. Edirne and Kırklareli provincial centers and district centers affiliated with these provinces were visited during the fieldwork. The businesses in the food sector were photographed, interviewed with business owners and cooks / masters and the information benefited during the preparation of the report was reached.

The project is co-funded by European Union through the Interreg-IPA CBC Bulgaria–Turkey Programme.

Address and location information of businesses and food information for sale are compiled during field work. Location and address information of businesses are analyzed via special software and this information is used in the report.

As a result of the literature reviews and field studies, a large part of the enterprises operating in the catering sector in Edirne and Kırklareli regions has been reached. These establishments have been registered. Thus, a study has been conducted that will serve the region's gastronomic studies for years.

4. OVERVIEW OF THE TOURISM SECTOR

4.1. Tourism in Turkey

In recent years, Turkey's tourism sector has been the most successful in the world economy. This success is evaluating the potential to have Turkey who want to continue to increase its share of revenues from international tourism and development in order to check the level of the upper levels is developing tourism policy. In this context, all the factors affecting the tourism sector were examined and new strategies were determined to increase competitiveness in the market. The most striking feature of these strategies is the emphasis on the encouragement of differences in promotional campaigns. This works especially natural that separates Turkey from rival countries with direction and is intended to emphasize the historical and cultural diversity. Among the policies identified are the provision of significant incentives for the tourism sector to increase external tourism revenues and to close the deficit balance. The budget between imports and exports is being tried to be closed with income from the open tourist sector. At this point, the imbalances between the tourism sector payments play an important role (Progem Training Consulting, 2015).

Turkey has a wide range in terms of tourism potential. Turkey is are very rich in terms of geographical location, history and cultural assets, as well as natural assets. However, in the mass tourism movement, the change of consumption demands of people for various reasons caused the necessity of studies on product diversity in the sector. Sea, sand and sun, which are considered as classical tourism products, are among the products that are available to every country which has a potential. This situation has led countries to work on developing and using the tourism potentials that they have in order to compete on sector basis and to be able to compete. In this context, taking into account the changing profile of tourists Turkey, has been a say in today's competitive market by identifying policies to improve the tourism sector (Progem Training Consulting, 2015).

Classic tourism products are replaced by alternative tourism methods over time in Turkey. When the geography of our country is evaluated with gastronomic elements that it has in its scope in terms of tourism, especially attractive factors, it is revealed that there is a deep and effective strategic richness. These include food festivals, wine festivals and product festivals.

4.2. What are Types of Alternative Tourism?

Today, many new types of tourism has emerged with development and enrichment of ihe tourism sector in the world and in Turkey. In addition to classical summer and winter tourism, new tourism varieties developed are called alternative tourism. Alternative tourism types that can be applied in a region can be determined based on geographical, historical, cultural and artistic values of that region. Alternative tourism types determined by T.C Ministry of Culture and Tourism are as follows:

- Health and Thermal Tourism
- Winter Sports Tourism
- Tableland Tourism
- White Water Tourism
- Hunting Tourism

The project is co-funded by European Union through the Interreg-IPA CBC Bulgaria–Turkey Programme.

- Birdwatching Tourism
- Speleological Tourism
- Underwater Diving Tourism
- Yacht Tourism

4.3. Gastronomy Tourism in Turkey

Turkey in terms of gastronomic tourism potential has extremely rich value. However, although Turkey has more value than many countries rich in gastronomy tourism it is still undeveloped at the desired level. It is thought that one of the most important reasons for this is caused by the emphasis on the trio of sea, sun and sand in publicity and marketing studies. In other words, it can be said that this kind of tourism is in the shadow of holiday tourism. Gastronomic tourism activities contribute to the exchange of culture among the people of the world by providing unique experiences to tourists and contributing to the development of cities and becoming a brand city (Bilgili, Yağmur, & Yazarkanan, 2012).

Gastronomy tourism is defined as strategically effective activities that take place among the rising tourist trends, the effect of creating a wide and high awareness of the scope of activity and the local people and the place where the activity is carried out and which contributes seriously to the development and image of the place and plays an important role in promoting the region and countries (Bucak & Erdoğan Aracı, 2013).

The gastronomic tourism industry should not be located in a narrow area within the framework of catering businesses and food guides. This industry includes in-house cookery schools, cookbook shops, gastronomic tour operators and guides for these tours, gastronomic media, television programs and magazines, gastronomic activities, wine and wine ties, breweries, alcohol distilleries, (Çağlı, 2012).

The development of local and regional gastronomic tourism, one of the most important elements of gastronomic tourism, has an important potential to contribute to the long-term competitiveness of the holiday space marketing perspective. Advertising local and regional food by promoting agricultural production by expanding and enhancing local and regional tourism resource bases by protecting the legacy of cooking and adding value to the authenticity of the holiday venue is an effective way to support and strengthen the agricultural sector of tourism and local economies. The development of a draft and guideline for performing gastronomic tourism creates opportunities for existing and potential entrepreneurs to best utilize the tourism potential of local and regional food (Eren, 2012).

4.3.1. The Gastronomic Event Held on Turkey

Gastronomy is seen as an important means for Turkish tourism to spread to all countries and countries without being bound to a certain season. In this context, the gastronomy festival was held in Istanbul in the first weeks of May 2013 by the Tourism, Restaurant Investors and Operators Association (TURYİD). This festival, which can be regarded as a late event despite the richness of the food and beverage culture that our country has, is an undeniable fact that the existing culinary culture will create value for the promotion of our country and sustainable development both nationally and internationally (Bucak & Erdoğan Aracı, 2013).

5. EDİRNE OVERVIEW

5.1. Edirne Provincial Tourism Potential

Edirne, located in the Thrace Region, carries an early Ottoman urbanization and cultural character. Throughout history, it has become a frequent destination for civilizations that have migrated to Anatolia and Europe, and each of the cultures has created a synthesis by protecting their own identities. This has contributed to the development of the cultural history of the province. Edirne, which has become a center of attraction for many civilizations for centuries in the fields of science, culture and art, is still attracted by its historical and cultural background.

Edirne, which combines Anatolia with Europe, has been a transit route to many cultures and civilizations throughout history as the rivers Tunca and Arda were established at the junction point with the Merich River. Especially the geographical position that it had in Roman-Byzantine and Ottoman-Turkish periods attracted the attention of many civilizations. Edirne, where the Thracian settlers emigrated from Central Asia, was ruled by first Persians, the Kingdom of Macedonia and the Romans. Emperor Hadrianus who visited Edirne in the period of Romans liked Edirne very much and named Hadrianapolis (Edirne History and Culture, 2015). In Islamic sources; name of Hadrianapolis was recorded as Edrenos and Edrenabolu. In the period of Murat 1, after having taken the form of Edirne, it was known for a long time in this way and gradually began to be pronounced as Edirne. In the 2nd century after Christ, the city gained great importance from the military point of view and started to live the gold era in commercial terms. After Christ in 395, as a result of the Migration of Tribes, Rome was divided into two and Edirne was under the patronage of the Byzantine Empire. During the Byzantine period, Hun, Avar, Bulgarians, Pechenegs and Crusaders tried to besiege Edirne, but they did not succeed. It was the second capital of the Edirne Empire, which was taken by the Ottoman Empire in 1391, and after that period it began to develop rapidly. II. During the reign of Mahmut, the Turkish-Russian war began on the invaded by the British, Russian and French, which led the people to migrate to the interior of the home. Then II. During the reign of Sultan Abdulhamid, 93 warts and tawny disease in the region had begun to occur, and many lost their lives. In 1878-79, the Russians entered Edirne and destroyed the city, burning more than two mosques, lodge, houses and government buildings. 1912-1913 During the Balkan War, Edirne, who entered Bulgaria under his dominion, was occupied by the Greeks in 1920. Then, with the Treaty of Lausanne, signed in 1923, has been included in the Republic of Turkey, it has become Turkey's Serhat city because of the struggle in this occupation. (Edirne History and Culture, 2015)

The geographical location of Thrace Region (TR21) has an important difference in terms of tourism development with its natural and cultural assets. Balkan countries, close to the Aegean, Marmara and Black Sea regions, attracts the attention of local and foreign tourists, and the region is becoming a holiday resort for evaluating day trips, summer or weekend times. The region is a region that provides 10 infrastructures for 17 different tourism types determined by the Ministry of Culture and Tourism and 4 non-existing ones. (Current Situation Report of Edirne Province, 2014)

Because Edirne province has its historical and cultural works, which are owned by the Ottoman state as a capital city, Kakava Festival, Tunca and Meric rivers, Saros Gulf coastal strip and local delicacies, this region has cultural tourism, religious tourism, gastronomic tourism, coastal tourism, hunting tourism, festival tourism and special interest tourist types can be made.

Edirne, which is our third city in terms of richness of historical artifacts after Istanbul and Bursa, continues to be a museum city despite the fact that most of the existing works are lost with two big fires, earthquakes and four invasions. Because the Ottoman Empire was once the capital city, the city was surrounded by historical monuments such as the Cham, mosque and bazaar. There are 612 historical works reflecting the Ottoman Turkish culture throughout the city. Selimiye Mosque and Kulliye are also included in UNESCO World Cultural Heritage list. All these historical and cultural values make a great contribution to the culture tourism in the country (www.edirne.bel.tr).

The Gala Lake and the National Park Area attract a very high and protected wetland with its natural landscape. Salt Lake is located in the back area of Erikli Beach and many birds are host to Çeşdine. Meric Delta is a preserved wetland. It is a natural attraction with its natural landscape and biodiversity. These destinations are visited by special interest tourists (such as birdwatchers, amateur fishermen, photographers, nature hikers, cyclists) (Thrace Development Agency, 2013). There are trekking places in Edirne. The region, which is called as Sultan Yolu and which covers Kapıkule-Edirne-Hıdırağa-Ortakçı-Kavaklı-Yagcılı-Süloğlu-Büyükgürlü route, is visited by domestic and foreign tourists who have been doing trekking sports in recent years.

When the Ministry of Culture and Tourism examines the accommodation statistics of the year 2016, the occupancy rate of the facilities with operating licenses is 20.38% for domestic tourists and 3.05% for foreign tourists. The average stay is 1.3 years for domestic and foreign tourists. The total occupancy rate in the facilities with municipality certificate is 25,87%. 23,91% of this rate belongs to local tourists. The average duration of stay is determined as 1.2 in domestic and foreign tourists. It is determined that the center of the facility is preferred more when it is examined in district basis.

According to 2016 statistics, the number of border entry and exit of foreigners coming to Turkey 2,840,479, while the number of foreigners 2.768.914't. It was determined that most of the land was accessed through the Kapikule Border Gate. It is observed that the highest number of entries was made in January, while the highest number of entries was made in February.

5.2.Featured Flavors in Edirne Province

The gastronomic cultures in Edirne have been influenced by the gastronomic cultures and the branding of the city has been investigated as to whether the gastronomic cultures owned by Edirne have the effect of promoting them and as a result the tourism enterprises in Edirne have not been able to offer enough local food to the tourists and the enterprises outside of Edirne who produce and sell foods belonging to Edirne it has been determined that they cannot promote the gastronomy culture promotion positively. Besides, it was observed that the guests who came to Edirne prefer local food instead of fast food, but Edirne's presentation to gastronomy is inadequate.

It is thought that this research which attracts attention to the local foods in Edirne will contribute to tourism by creating an attraction of tourist attraction. Below are the recipes for regional delicacies;

1- Wheat Cheese Bread

Materials

Flour, 1/2 cup parsley oil, 3 eggs / salt / lukewarm water, 2 parsley coriander bulgur, 2 water-pepper bean curd cheese, 2 medium onions, 2 pointed peppers, 1 tablespoon tomato slice, salt, black pepper, dry mint, pepper, sesame seeds, turban grass, 2 egg yolks, 1/2 water glass yogurt, liquid oil (dough, spoon and on).

Preparation of

It is pooled and 3 eggs are broken in the middle. Liquid oil and salt are added. With the addition of controlled warm water, a paste is obtained in the lump consistency. The dough is rested under a cloth cover for half an hour. The dough is cut into 6-8 meringue size with a small apple size and hand-kneaded. Then a cloth is taken to rest under cover for half an hour. When dough is resting, the inner wheat of the findings cheese area is prepared. The onions are finely minced and swollen together with the oil. Seed beds are cleaned and finely chopped sharp peppers are added and lightly roasted. Extracted and washed bulgur is added and turned once or twice. The sauce is added to the material and the flavor is slightly removed. Add spices according to the desire and add hot water to the bulgur to pass a finger. Take it to a low heat and cover it for 5-6 minutes. Then the fire is turned off and the bulgur is bred in its own form and prepared like a rice prepared. Prepared bulgur pilaf is taken in a bowl and air is provided by the refreshment. The pilaf is added with broken cheese and it is ventilated and spread to all sides. From the restored bezel, the bunk beds are opened on the table size. Two semicircular flakes are obtained by cutting from the middle of each flute. With the tip of the spoon, liquid oil is circulated over them and gently handed. The cut flat part is laid from the inner mortar along the length of several fingers and rolled up like a roll. To prevent the ends of the rolls from opening, they are knotted slightly and stretched by gently pulling the roll with the palm of the hand. Starting from the middle of a greased sinning, it is wrapped in Bosnian bough form. Each new roll continues from the other end to the end of the turn. Two eggs, a cup of oil and half a glass of water is mixed with yogurt and spread on the body. Optionally, sesame seeds and black sesame seeds are mixed and cooked in a medium heat cooker until six and over pomegranate. The pie removed from the flour is taken to the side and a few flip-flops are poured on the fingertips and rested under a cloth cover. It is then sliced and served warm.

2- Piyaziye

Materials

Desired medium size onion, 300 grams of flaked lamb or lamb, 300 grams mince, 1/2 cup of brass, 2 lemon juice, black pepper / salt, oil.

Preparation of

Edirne Cheese has been known all over the world as being rich and high in quality and high quality of processed poultry cheese. Despite having lost some of its former importance today, Edirne Cheese is very sought after and kept.

In the 1930s, an average of 2,000 tons of white cheese was produced annually in Thrace. It is known that more than half of these are supplied from Edirne. In Edirne, white cheese has its own unique form of construction. The milk is first boiled to 70 degrees. It is cooled to 30 degrees and fermented. The fermentation temperature varies according to the weather conditions. After 1 and 5 hours, a curd is formed. Cendere is taken to the glands, is left to drain. This takes about 3.5 hours, then the salt is cast into the molds and lined up in tin. It is sent to the icehouse. The gymnasium takes its flavor in 45 days, ready for sale and offered for sale.

Features of Edirne Cheese

For example, cow's milk nutrition values (Protein, calcium, fat, etc.) in May are different from November values. That is why the vegetation cover is different. Feeding the dairy cattle according to the variability of the natural plant cover ensures that the produced cheese has different values. This applies in sheep and goat milk. Therefore, Edirne White Cheese carries the characteristic features and aroma of the relevant month in different months of the year.
- Accordingly, milk of each breed carries its own characteristics. Cow's milk protein, calcium, fat values such as sheep and goat breeding are different. At different times, it has been observed that the mixture of milk with different characteristics causes incompatibility in cheese formation, mutually ineffective protein, vitamins useful for human health, and aromatic imbalance.
- Instead of sheep cheese due to excessive supply and demand, cow cheese and also white cheese mixed with cow-sheep are produced, which shade the old Edirne cheese.
- As suggested, only cheese produced using sheep or goat milk does not have the unwanted odor and aroma, but rather reflects its own unique taste.
- Another basic feature of Edirne White Cheese is; (cow, sheep, goat) is to be boiled and baked in a maximum of 1 hour after milking. In today's conditions, production principle; all hygiene rules are applied, food safety is believed to be believed and the truth is the closest to traditional production.

- Edirne White Cheese is transparent, bright and white in color.
- Edirne White Cheese does not contain pores.
- Edirne White Cheese completes ripening in brine (salt water) at different times. Maturation times were the average of the subjects used; cow milk 6 months, goat milk 8 months, sheep milk 12 months.

- Maturation process is very important for cheese. Cow's milk cheese is absorbed and released 3 times in 6 months period.

- For Edirne White Cheese, the refrigerator conditions require a separate specialty. Cheese is mature in a special cold room in brine at +4 to +6 degrees in temperature and at a certain height from the ground. Cheese of each type is kept in different grades. In addition, the cheese is often checked during the maturation process in the ice-cube environment. According to the situation of development, physical position is changed by movements in horizontal and vertical directions.

- The Edirne White Cheese is made from the end of an unleavened oven. This beaker is dried and can be used for a long time (1 - 1,5 years).

In Kırklareli, there are more recently discovered natural beauties such as Iğneada Longoz forest, Strandja Mountains, Dupnisa Cave, Lake, Demirköy (Iğneada) and Kiyıköy. In addition, many monuments, mounds, tumulus, dolmens, rock monasteries, mosques, baths, bridges and many other cultural values are included in this area (kirkclarelikulturturizm.gov.tr). Ecotourism, cave tourism, hunting tourism, botanical tourism, bird watching, cultural tourism and coastal tourism can be done in Kırklareli with these values (Akay, Tokatlı, & Aksoy, 2017).

Kırklareli is one of the places that focuses on eco-system attention under the stars of Istranca, there are a wide variety of flora and fauna, natural sites, natural caves, historical caves, cultural heritage, monumental trees and magnificent landscapes, with a unique beauty of longoz forests with a terrestrial climate. 48% of Kırklareli are surrounded by mountains and there are many rivers born from it. Some of them are poured into the sea from the Black Sea coast while others are poured into the Aegean (Morgül, 2014). Istranca Mountains, Iğneada Longoz forests, rich flora and fauna are suitable places for the sociocultural structure of the people of the region for ecotourism (Gülay & Çakır).

There are many caves in the province of Kırklareli. These caves were subjected to resettlement in prehistoric times and early Christianity period. These caves with these characteristics and other caves attracting attention with their natural characteristics are also important for cave tourism. These include the Dupnisa Cave, which is 2,720 meters long, Yenesu Cave, which is 1,620 meters long, Domuzdere Cave, which is 300 meters long, and Kiyıköy Caves and Captain's Cave, which are 305 meters long. Dupnisa Cave, 6 km south of Sarpdere Köyü located in the town of Demirköy, is the first registered natural site (Morgül, 2014). Dupnisa Cave is an important underground habitat because 18 species of caverns with about 60,000 bats in 11 species of caves maintain their invertebrate life (kirkclarelikulturturizm.gov.tr).

Kırklareli is an important location for both land and water hunting. Due to its natural structure and its migration route, it enables the survival of many different animal species. In Kırklareli, Demirköy-Visa Karamanbayırı, Demirköy Sislioba, Kofçaz Kocayazı, Vize Kiyıköy State hunting areas, Babaeski Ergene, Lüleburgaz Ahmetbey, Kırklareli Kayalı general hunting areas and Çukurpınar sample hunting areas are located. It is possible to hunt here, as well as hunting tourism in the state forests, soil conservation and reforestation sites, state agricultural enterprises, dam lakes and safety areas, lakes, lagoons, swamps and reeds in the province borders (www.kirkclarelikulturturizm.gov.tr).

Kırklareli is a great attraction for those interested in botanical tourism due to the flora richness it hosts. The 670 species of plant species close to 10,000 in our country are grown only in the Kırklareli Forests. There are 27 kinds of endemic plants in the region (www.kirkclarelikulturturizm.gov.tr). Iğneada Longoz Forests, Dupnisa Cave and its surroundings, Balaban Dersi and its surroundings, Mutludere (Rezve), Demirköy Dökümhane, Mahya Dagi, Kastros Bay, Panayır İskeleyi and Tekkaya, Dereköy-Hudut Boyu and Kiyıköy are the potential points for the plants (Morgül, 2014).

Although bird watching is not known to a small number of people in our country, it is very common in Europe and North America. It is possible to find the Kırklareli province within the boundaries of Iğneada within the year of 194 species of birds with 454 birds driving the existence of birds in our country. Many of these areas are on the transition route to the autumn migration of water birds and predator birds, especially storks (black and white stork). Some water birds (such as fishermen, geese, ducks, water chickens, rainbows) and tear-offs (such as eagles, hawks, borns, and delicacies) breed in the field. This bird richness, which is one of the alternative tourism varieties, attracts the interest of bird watching in Kırklareli. Places where these activities can be carried out except Iğneada; Kasatura Gulf Protection Area, Vize District Çavuşköy Göleti Mevkii, Dupnisa Cave Wet Area (www.kirkclarelikulturturizm.gov.tr).

Kırklareli carries significant value for cultural tourism with its cultural assets and assets. Archaeological

The natural beauty of Kırklareli in İğneada town of Demirköy district, 20 km of uninterrupted sandy beaches and beaches are suitable for coastal tourism (www.trakyaagezi.com).

6.2 Featured Flavors in Kırklareli

It can be said that Kırklareli cuisine is also influenced by various cultures. When the population structure of Kırklareli is thought to be composed of immigrants from the Balkans, it is observed that the effect is also seen in the formation of food culture. Consumption of meat and dairy products is the first order because local people are affected by animal husbandry. Grilled cheese production is widespread. Meat and dairy products, as well as vegetables and fruits, have an important place in nutrition. The region where pastries are predominant is varied with dishes prepared with local cuisine, fish and game meat. Depending on the lantern, wine production, mustard seed and sour cherry leaf mustard are produced in the region. Drink was first raised transport of the Republic of Turkey on November 20, 1930 Gazi Mustafa Kemal Atatürk Kırklareli he served as the hardaliye during his trip to the very people liked "to bring it into its national drink" was held with the form of expression. Over time, a serious decline in the grape, which is the raw material of the mustard in the region, has begun to be experienced and the production of mustard has been forgotten by itself and has been produced for its own consumption by being limited to a few people from the local people.

Kırklareli, which is also known as Cheese City, has been one of the important centers of Thrace, which covers the needs of milk and dairy products of Istanbul and also Marmara Region. Kırklareli, famous for its ambiguity, the abundant amount of milk obtained from various animals is offered to the markets in a variety of ways. Kırklareli has a wide variety of dairy products as a result of its cultural richness. Sheep and buffalo yoghurt, grilled cheese, goat cheese, white cheese with various fat proportions are some examples that can be given to them.

Kırklareli has a rich cultural heritage, Cittaslow (calm city) in the town of Vize as a result of natural and human riches linden tea, linden sherbet (syrup) is consumed as a regional flavor. Vizes people is also using linden as an alternative drink that can be consumed especially during the hot summer months. The linden tea, prepared in a similar way to the iced tea, is mixed with various flavors such as honey and mint and then served cold with ice.

The Ankara Chamber of Commerce (ATO) and the Ankara Patent Bureau took part in the flavor map of Kırklareli, with a variety of dishes including 81 provinces, such as aquatic getaway, dry-lover, kaymakcine, kulur, plaska, nettle soup, quail paper kebab. 15 Kırklareli cheese and Kırklareli Grape Mustard are included in the table of geographical indications in the application stage of the Turkish Patent Institute.

It can be seen that the cuisine of Kırklareli is rich in food varieties as a result of the population coming from different cultures and traditions. It is possible to see in a different province of Thrace a meal cooked in Kırklareli, with different dishes being cooked even in neighboring counties and villages. In this study, local food samples are given from Kırklareli cuisine. In addition, it is thought that this work will contribute to tourism by attracting attention to local foods and creating tourist attraction elements.

7. GASTRONOMY TOURISM IN EDIRNE AND KIRKLARELI PROVINCES

7.1. Concept of Destination

The project is co-funded by European Union through the Interreg-IPA CBC Bulgaria–Turkey Programme.

The destination word comes from the English destination word. Destination; destination, destination, purpose. The destination in tourism and travel is defined as the destination, the destination, the final destination, which is the destination of the tourism movements (Kılıç, 2007).

Generally, the destination is a branded national area with a large image in the human brain, large and small in many parts of the country, and has a potential for development, including attractions, attraction centers, festivals, carnivals, is defined as a region with inter-regional and inter-regional transport facilities connected to the internal transportation network and sufficient geographical area for the development of tourist facilities (Kılıç, 2007).

A tourism destination which attracts tourists with various tourism resources that they have and hosts intensive touristic visits, which is the whole of direct and indirect tourism services provided by many institutions and organizations (Ozdemir, 2014).

Determination of the characteristics of the tourism resources and the basic resources and attractiveness of the tourism destination is important for the development of marketing strategies. Tourism destinations generally have different and complex characteristics. They should be able to create a gravitational attraction with the values they have and be visited by a certain mass of visitors (Sarı & Kozak, 2005). The characteristics of tourism destinations are as follows (İlban, 2007):

1. Attractiveness: Human structure, natural, architectural, cultural heritage, special events.
2. Accessibility: Transportation system, terminals, vehicles.
3. Facilities: Accommodation, food & beverage, travel agents and other services.
4. Planned Tours: Presence of tours organized by travel agents in advance.
5. Activities: all activities in the destination that will benefit during the visit to the tourist.
6. Supporting Services: Services that tourists like banking, communication tools, healthcare will benefit.

The characteristics of tourism destinations can be said to have a decisive influence on the choice of destination for those who decide to travel.

Eating and drinking characteristics constitute one of the most important features while the features of the destination consist of abstract and concrete products and services. The meal is one of the most fun activities during the lunch vacation, with the lowest spending rate. Therefore, it can be considered as one of the most precious attraction centers where a local food culture destination has. In this case, marketing activities and policies should be defined to protect the local food culture and to reflect this culture in tourists (Özdemir, 2014).

7.2. Accessibility to Edirne and Kırklareli Destination

TR21 Thrace Region, which is a bridge connecting Europe to Asia, is a high transit area with strong road infrastructure, ports, railway and air links and accessibility (www.trakyaka.org.tr). The roads and railways connecting Anatolia, Istanbul and the Middle East to Europe pass through Edirne. From Europe to Turkey entering the fourth border crossing is one of three in Greece and the Bulgarian border. The 230 km highway of Edirne is connected to Istanbul (www.cografya.gen.tr). At present, the only airport in Thrace is used for transportation from Tekirdag - Çorlu Airport. Edirne - Kırklareli airport, one of the newly established airports in 2016, has made significant contributions to tourism in the region. In addition, the rapid train project to get from Istanbul Halkalı and reach Edirne Kapıkule from Tekirdağ and Kırklareli is ongoing.

Thrace with many transport networks with highways Kırklareli, Turkey thus connected to other localities. Regular transportation to surrounding districts and villages is provided from Kırklareli bus station. In Thrace, the connection between Edirne and Tekirdağ is made via direct buses from Gelibolu-Çanakkale and via

Istanbul to Anatolia. Thrace is located close to the E-5 and TEM motorways passing through the Edirne-Istanbul route. There are also alternative routes by road from Edirne - Kırklareli - Pınarhisar - Vize - Saray - Cerkezköy - Istanbul route. Kırklareli has access to Bulgaria from the Dereköy border crossing on the Kofçaz county. For this, bus services are provided by the relevant companies in Kırklareli bus station. Despite the presence of the Railway network, this method of transport no longer serves. Limkoy is the only natural harbor on the Black Sea coast of Kırklareli, which reaches 60 km. İğneada and Kiyıköy are two important
