Institutions: 1 kindergarten, 2 schools, 1 social center

2 managers of teaching

1 social worker

1 social pedagogue

Open questions:

1. What are the parts/things you liked in the EmpowerKids-app?

- kids loved playing in tablets;
- they liked also the different game components as apples and faces

The answers to the third question were similar to the first question.

2. What are the parts/things you disliked in the EmpowerKids-app?

- the game was too long

4. What are the parts/things you want to be removed/changed in the EmpowerKids-app?

- Most of children will not remove anything.
- Two kids said again that the game could be shorter.

5. Is there some other comments you want to make about the EmpowerKids-app?

- I'm glad that I could play it.
- This game is really simple, but it will take a lot of time
- I liked that I had to spend time with my parents and to do sports. I liked these pictures. I liked to write my name first and the name of my kindergarten. Sad faces I did not like at all.

Open questions:

1. What are the parts/things you liked in the EmpowerKids-app?

- The whole application is very well thought out. I particularly liked the part where the children could choose between the faces. Firstly, it was possible to explain to a pre-school child, and secondly, it was good to develop a conversation on these topics.
- Playing the game is varied. In the meantime, it's a little easier to just choose a face, and then again, a more time-consuming part.

2. What are the parts/things you disliked in the EmpowerKids-app?

- Too long, the kids were tired, and at the final part of the game eager to think about and felt that they just wanted to stop it somehow.
- The responses are also very much affected by the current mood.
- The feedback questions for a kindergarten child were VERY complicated.
- The feedback to children was very similar to everyone (e.g., do not sit longer than 2 hours)

4. What are the parts/things you want to be removed/changed in the EmpowerKids-app?

- "Can the child be able to give an objective assessment of the financial condition of the family?"
- There are a lot of activities that can not be practiced in Rakvere –various activities must be explained to children : types of gymnastics and movement (diferent gymnastics, running, jogging, walking, hiking).
- The choice of food is too detailed.

5. Is there some other comments you want to make about the EmpowerKids-app?

- Feedback is too general, does not touch the child personally and he is not ready to make changes in his behavior accordingly.
- The app really gives you a good overview of your child's daytime rhythm and habits. The kids really liked the game, so many asked if I could get this game for myself. And most of the children asked later, could we still play it.

Thank you!
